"In our new product, Think like a Genius Straight A+ Student, we deconstructed the studying strategies of top students and then created a DVD and book to teach others their strategies. Students use many of your principles, we included your name and website as an additional reference for students who wanted to learn even more memory strategies. I know your strategies work because I bought your program and used them to pass an incredibly difficult Sommelier exam." Taryn Voget, CEO, Everyday Genius Institute
