Achieve the Leading Edge!

"Develop Powerful Foundations for Direct Selling Success"

Debrena Jackson Gandy is an award-winning top performer and earner as former leader of a multi-million dollar direct sales team. She is a national best-selling author, award-winning speaker, women's empowerment specialist and consultant that uses her proven track record and extensive knowledge of direct sales to provide high-impact keynotes, customized training and performance coaching that yields powerful results for top direct sales companies, their leadership and field sales teams.

Debrena is a paradigm-shifter, a ground-breaker, an innovator, visionary and refreshingly electrifying and engaging speaker that keeps her audiences riveted and on the edge of their seats wanting more. She has shared the stage with other greats such as Maya Angelou and has been rated as the best keynote speaker ever by many of her audiences!

Recognized as a Direct Selling Expert

Debrena was selected to be part of the line-up of direct selling experts for the launch of the Mind Aware Teleseminar series for women in direct selling, that attracted over 12,000 women world-wide -the most successful direct selling teleseminar series launch to date. Debrena's segment was one of the most popular, and her home study course was one of the best-selling packages. In addition, Debrena went on to found the MLM Academy, an on-going monthly tele-training Academy that supports women direct sellers from across the country in achieving exceptional success in their direct selling businesses.
